

JAMES DOWNEY

James Joseph Downey is a solo performer and tutor, playing in venues across Northern Ireland as a one man band. His passion lies in music and creating a big sound with the use of harmonica, cajon, guitar and singing at the same time - and whistling if he can catch his breath.

With 3 years of teaching experience under his belt, and child protection certificate - James is an enthusiastic, structured tutor who tries to make his classes both educational and fun by using the grade books as his base of material, whilst including musical games, short quizzes and popular music songs as resources of learning.

His debut EP is on Spotify and iTunes under the name "James Downey and the Aos Sí" which can also be found on youtube and his company website - www.otherworldproductions.co.uk.